UPDATE: Construction Deemed Essential in Revised Statewide Order

We are pleased to report that after submitting a letter to the governor this evening expressing the need for clarity around construction's essential function during a crisis, the Newsom Administration updated its Executive Order.

Construction, including housing construction, is listed as an essential need during this crisis.

This clarification will allow our industry to continue working on critical infrastructure improvements essential during this time, including hospital construction and upgrades, building schools, and ensuring our roads and bridges are safe for first responders.

Again, we encourage you to join us tomorrow for an informational webinar to learn more about how to operate safely and effectively during this challenging time.
